Now For The Finish

ONE HUNDRED MEN WILL COMPLETE TIMPANOGAS TRAIL TODAY—MOUNTAIN CLIMBERS MAY HERE-AFTER RIDE ON HORSEBACK TO THE SADDLE NEAR THE SUMMIT.

One hundred men were intending to leave today for the east mountain to complete the trail to Mount Timpanogas. The trail has already been built to the base of Dry Canyon ridge and it is thought that the work today will carry the trail to the saddle from which point the mountain climbers may go first to the glacier and then to the summit, or reach the summit without going to the glacier. It is intended to only build the horse trail to the saddle, but from this point, it will be but a twenty minute walk to the flag and monument.

A new flag has been made and strengthened and will replace the one put up last year. Plans for the official opening of the trail have not yet been completed but will be in a few days. It is intended to advertise it far and wide and have Governor Spry and other prominent state officials present. In as much as neither Salt Lake nor Pleasant Grove were holding any celebration on Pioneer Day, it has been suggested that this would be an excellent time for the opening.

SOLDIER BOYS HAPPY IN NOGALES, ARIZ.

Have Plenty to Eat, Sanitary Cots, Shower Baths and Plenty of Well Cooked Food.

Several letters and post cards have been received from the Pleasant Grove boys who are down on the Mexican border guarding Uncle Sam's rights. As yet there has not been any sickness, though the boys' arms are sore from being vaccinated against small pox and inoculated with germs against typhoid.

The Utah battery and the California company were the first of all the National Guard to land and were given the pick of camps. They chose a rocky hill close in to Nogales, and soon had it cleared of rocks, prickly pears and mesquite brush. Water from town was piped out to their tents and the boys are now able to enjoy a daily shower bath, a luxury much appreciated down there.

At first the boys slept on straw ticks but have now been given the regulation army cots that are both sanitary and comfortable. They have a good variety of well cooked food and plenty of it.

The Utah Battery is well treated by the boys from the other states and particularly by the regulars, because of the good record that was made by Battery A in the Philippines. Horses have been lacking until within the past few days, but now that they have been supplied they will be the regular thing and the company has gotten in shape for service if it becomes necessary. With the daily drills comes the desire for active service. During the past week, the boys were all given new, light, khaki uniforms and Captain Webb expressed satisfaction over the neat appearance of the Utah organization.

Mail addressed to any of the boys should be care of Utah Battery, Nogales, Arizona.

Ed. Waburton, who killed the big Chomson bear on the east mountains several weeks ago, reports having seen a big Mountain Lion in the same locality recently. It was very poor and showed the effects of a hard winter. He had no gun, else it too might have been added to his collection. He also says that he has seen more bear tracks, made since the last bear was killed, and he expects to get a companion to the other bruin.

MONEY IN FARMING IF DONE RIGHT

It is a pleasure and an inspiration to visit a farm that is farmed right. George Tomlinson's farm on the bench is not only a thing of beauty but it is a money maker also. He has about 12 acres of strawberries and when the frost came many extended their sympathies for his great loss. But others were frozen also so the berries that came later brought double prices and Mr. Tomlinson has realized from $1.25 to $2.50 per case for his entire crop and the final picking will not be over till next week. He has been making an auto truck trip to Salt Lake daily ever since the season opened and states that his berries have brought him between $3,000 and $4,000.

He also guessed that the U. S. Government would be in the market for beans and planted 7 acres which will yield about one ton per acre and for which he has already been offered 8 cents per pound.

ASK HIM TO COME HERE

The dispatches state that ex-Justice Hughes, the Republican Nominee for President, intends spending a week of recreation in climbing mountains. Provo has sent him an invitation to climb Mt. Timpanogas. It has been suggested that the invitation might have more weight if he knew that the trip could be made on horseback from Pleasant Grove.

WHO AM I?

I am more powerful than the combined armies of the world. I have destroyed more men than all the wars of the world.

I am more deadly than bullets, and I have wrecked more homes than the mightiest of siege guns.

I steal in the United States alone, over $300,000,000 each year.

I spare no one and I find my victims among the rich and poor alike, the old and the young; the strong and the weak; widows and orphans know me.

I loom up in such proportions that I cast my shadow over every field of labor from the turning of the grindstone to the running of every railroad train.

I massacre thousands upon thousands of wage earners every year.

I lurk in unseen places and do most of my work silently. You are warned against me but you heed not.

I am relentless. I am everywhere, in the home, on the street, in the factory, in the mines, at railroad crossings, on the sea.

I bring sickness, degradation and death, and yet few seek to avoid me.

I destroy, crush and maim; I give nothing; I take all.

I am your worst enemy.

I AM CARELESSNESS.

Frequently we hear the expression that men are worse than hogs. This must be distasteful to hogs, but facts are stubborn things. To show the similarity between the acts of men and hogs toward their kind, we will state that when a hog gets an ear of corn every other hog will trot after him, squealing and whining for a bite; but just let the front hog get fast in a crack and every son of a gun of the hogs will jump on him and tear him to pieces. It is the same with men. As long as a man is prosperous and has money, he can't keep his friends away with a double barreled shotgun. Just as soon as he becomes unfortunate and his money has dwindled away, he is not only snubbed by his former friends, but they begin to do all the damage possible. Let a man start up grade and mankind falls behind and hastens his ascension.

When he starts down the grade the world steps to one side, greases the track and says, "let him slide."

THRIFT OF A NEW KIND.

Mary was a good wife. William was a good husband. But William was making considerably less than John D. Rockefeller so Mary often had to worry along on less fancy furniture and fewer modern kitchen appliances than she could use to enhance her home. So Mary thought of a new system. She wanted a nice library table to take the place of the archaic "center table" in "the parlor," but felt sure William wouldn't be able to spare the money. So she said:

"Bill, whenever you come home with coppers—cents—in your pocket, hand them over to me. I'll put them in a box and see what they amount to at the end of six or seven months. Maybe there'll be enough to buy the library table, and you won't miss the money that way."

So Bill handed over whatever cents accumulated in his pockets for eight months. He never missed them, any more than he missed the little "spending money" he frittered away about the town. And now Mary has a nice library table.

If there's one thing more than another that helps put a community in the "also ran" class it's the town knocker. You know him—the fellow who is always complaining that the town is dead, that business is going from bad to worse, that the schools are not half as good as they are in some neighboring village, and so on. Not only does the knocker dole out this discouraging line of talk to his own town folks, but passes it along to the stranger within our gates. And isn't it wonderful how fast this kind of information spreads and isn't it equally wonderful how some people will more quickly believe a bad than a good report?
